

Transit Talks

Access to public transit is important, and Americans of all ages are willing to pay more to live where cars are not necessary. Here's who's willing to pay more for better transit options:

of Millennials

of Gen Xers

of Boomers of Seniors

73%

of people support changing land use or zoning regulations in their communities to encourage transit-oriented development

LONDON

PROPERTIES

Source:

HNTB's America THINKS "Transit Oriented Development in America" survey

CALIFORNIA
ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS®